

A light to my path. Psalm 119:105

Love Is A Powerful Force!

God's love is the most powerful force in all His creation. Judson Cornwall writes about his brother, Robert, in "Whose Love Is It Anyway," Judson Cornwall & Michael Reed, 1991, pp. 58-59. Robert pastored a small church in Salem, Oregon and was a part-time counselor at the Salem State Mental Hospital. On his first assignment, he was admitted into a locked padded room that smelled of human excrement with 36 deranged, half-clothed inmates who groaned, moaned, and gave demonic laughter. Robert did not know what to do until the Holy Spirit led him to sit on the floor, in the middle of the room, and sing Jesus loves me. He did that for an hour, but nothing happened. Robert did the same the next day and each day after without results. In the third week, a large black woman circled him like a dog to a prey, but Robert continued to sing. Then the woman began to sing softly with him. At the end of the first month, the 36 inmates transferred to self-care. In one year, 34 inmates were discharged from the hospital. God loves you the way you are, not for what you do. I bless you with the healing power of God's love as He holds your right hand while removing fear, meeting all your needs, and upholding you with His righteous right hand. Trust in the Lord, do good, dwell where you live and feed on His faithfulness. Shalom!!
