

A light to my path. Psalm 119:105

Power of Words

David, my friend, former pastor, and now a retired college professor of Hebrew; said recently that the worst English word is deserve and the best is, nevertheless. There is an exceeding richness in those words when they are taken together. Deserve is all about what a person wants or does not want. Nevertheless, can change a negative to positive or the reverse.

God promised the Israelites the land of Canaan. Ten spies found the land fruitful. Two spies wanted to take the land. Eight said nevertheless, the giants.

Peter denied Jesus three times. Nevertheless, Jesus asked Peter three times if he loved Him, then told Peter to feed His sheep.

At times we are hurt by unkept promises, payment of undelivered goods, unkind words spoken, or being rejected for sundry reasons. BUT, when we declare nevertheless, while putting the hurtful situation into God's hands, He works it out to our good.

I bless you with the power God has put into "nevertheless" for your needs and a peaceful life. Enjoy the fruit of "nevertheless" as you use it. Shalom!!
