

A light to my path. Psalm 119:105

The LORD is Your Strength!

Some parents are ashamed and impatient with their child's weakness in athletics, academics, music, or defending themselves against a bully. God wants that child to know, even in their tears, that He is not ashamed or impatient with their weakness, for He is their strength. The shame and impatience that a parent feels for their child's weakness is their own weakness. God wants that parent to know that He is their strength. We all have weaknesses. God loves those weakness, for in them He is strong. He said in 2 Corinthians 12:9 that His strength is sufficient for us because His strength is made perfect in our weakness. Jesus tells us that we can do all things through Him for He strengthens us (Philippians 4:13). God declares in Zechariah 9:12 that He will restore double to us because of His blood covenant with us. You shall be blessed as you let God be your Abba Father who strengthens you in your weakness. Shalom!!
