

A light to my path. Psalm 119:105

Trust Breaks Fear!

You may have experienced being in an airplane during a rainstorm with lightning. The pilot raises the plane to a higher altitude above the storm. We are in a storm misnamed virus pandemic when it is a fear pandemic. There are many signs of the fear, from the Dow Jones Industrial Average (DJIA) exponential swings to a flood of memos from organizations assuring people of their safety, to travel bans. Look above these circumstances to Jesus for He is your peace. Wait in Him for the crisis to end. Trust in Him to protect and provide for you. Hope in Him for a wonderful outcome. Sarah Young wrote in "Jesus is Calling" that wait, trust, and hope are a strong strand with trust in the center. Together, that strand is not easily broken. I bless you with the assurance of Psalm 91. No terror, arrow, pestilence, or plague shall come near you, nor your dwelling place. Stay in the secret place of the Most High and experience His shalom peace. Shalom!!
