

A light to my path. Psalm 119:105

Trust God's Word

Our country is in a bit of chaos and confusion. In my childhood, during WWII, there was more order and demonstrations of faith than I see today. The proclamations I have heard and read from men and women, since January this year, have not shown evidence of fruitfulness. F.G. Marchant wrote in "The Preacher's Commentary on the Book of Joshua" 1883, man's word fails because of thoughtless utterance, by fickleness of regard, and through feebleness in execution. I have found, as I look back over my 80 years, that God's word never fails. God told Mary that with Him nothing will be impossible. I have seen men and women's faith in God to protect and provide for them fail. At times, my faith failed. Such failures do not stop God's continual flow of blessings to us. Do not run to the world for help. The world's solutions are the next problems. Come to God through Jesus the Christ. He will not fail you. He may help you through someone or something in the world. God's solutions to problems are final. In my old age and gray head, I declare God's strength and power to you; and His wisdom that dwells with prudence and finds out knowledge and discretion. Shalom!!
