

A light to my path. Psalm 119:105

PRAYER: A Vehicle of Communication

For some people, prayer is like an unused automobile. It carries a high trade-in value but has not delivered many blessings. Other people have used their prayer so often it has little trade-in value but has delivered an exceedingly abundant load of blessings. Prayer does not have to be so long that the fried eggs and bacon set before you have grown cold. Prayer can be short. “Thank you, Lord!” “Abba, I need help!” “Thank you, Jesus, for loving me,” “Lord, I cannot find my lost ring!” A woman was released from her attacker when she shouted, “Feathers, feathers!” from Psalm 91. My wife, Sandra prays for the local farmers to prosper when she sees and buys local produce in the market. Prayer is talking to Abba. Rev up your prayer! Do not let it be idle, for the blessing it gives to others will also come to you. Shalom!!
