

A light to my path. Psalm 119:105

Those Who Mourn!

Matthew 5:4, states that those who mourn shall be blessed. We mourn at some point in life. My mother, age 101, 7 months, died on Friday, August 12, 2022. I mourn this loss. We mourn unpleasant outcomes of a bad decision. However, mourning in verse four above is a broken relationship that abides deeply within a person.^[1] There is dissatisfaction, disconnection, and loneliness all shrouded in fear, which causes alienation. The world's ways cannot heal such a condition because its roots are in Adam's original sin. But there is a blessing nearby! It is comfort.^[2] The comfort is Jesus. Accepting Jesus turns mourning into comfort. Beloved, you are greatly blessed by a closer walk with Jesus. Shalom!!

Footnote:

1. Thayer's Greek-English Lexicon of the New Testament Greek 3996
2. Thayer's Greek-English Lexicon of the New Testament Greek 3870

Matthew 5:4, Psalm 34:18, Psalm 73:26, James 4:8, Psalm 63:1-8

Love Life Ministry

Touching People with the Healing Power of God's Love[©]

Scripture quoted or referenced is from The Holy Bible, New King James Version, Copyright © 1979, 1980, 1982, 1997 by Thomas Nelson, Inc. Used by Permission. All rights reserved