

The Feather

I see a feather falling, / floating down on air. / I know my Jesus sees it too, / His heart filled with care. / I see the feather stop, / fallen to the ground. / I know my Jesus sees it too, / He stoops places His hand around. / In His hand the feather lives, / to it life He gives. / I see the feather fly brave, / from it another bird He gave. (Crothers, February 11, 2023)

Even the falling of a sparrow does not go unnoticed by Abba (Matthew 10:29 NKJV). Therefore, when trouble or disappointment draws darkness across our countenance, sending us into a downward spiral, Abba notices that fall. When we turn our face to Him, He tenderly encircles it with both hands, refreshing our minds and hearts (Psalm 23 and 121).

Beloved, the world's ways will steal the goodness of life from you. Even though the world's ways have a very strong draw stand in faith that the God of hope will fill you with all joy and peace in believing for His best. Then you will abound in hope by the power of the Holy Spirit (Romans 15:13)

Shalom!!

Love Life Ministry Touching People with the Healing Power of God's Love[©]

Scripture quoted or referenced is from The Holy Bible, New King James Version, Copyright $^{\circ}$ 1979, 1980, 1982, 1997 by Thomas Nelson, Inc. Used by Permission. All rights reserved