

A light to my path. Psalm 119:105

A Night Season!

Night can be so dark and thick that light cannot penetrate its adversarial purpose. The heavy darkness has a hostile grip on one's mind and heart. Satan uses night seasons to discourage us. Sometimes that discouragement makes us hopeless. We do not have to stay in the night season. King David cried out to God to lift him above his adversarial night season. God turned David's mourning into dancing (Psalm 30, NKJV). Since his young shepherd days, David always sought God's heart (1 Samuel 13:14). Therefore, in his night season, David's heart instructed him to call upon God (Psalm 16:7).

God brought heavy darkness upon the Egyptians for three days to convince Pharaoh to release the Israelites from slavery. The darkness could not block the supernatural light in Goshen where his people lived (Exodus 10:22-23).

Today, God does not bring heavy darkness over his people. Satan brings it. But we can rebuke that darkness by not hiding our confidence in God. When we stand firmly in the faith of Jesus, we can endure a night season. Through our endurance, we will see God's promise fulfilled in us (Hebrews 10:35-36).

Beloved, your night season may be a prolonged sickness, endless loneliness, or suffering a deep hurt inflicted by someone. I pray you will seek God's help. He will gently correct your thinking and strengthen you, thus, turning your night season into a rejoicing of good. Shalom!!
