

A light to my path. Psalm 119:105

What is the Desire of Your Heart?

Our hearts become burdened in situations where we see a potential loss. We see the loss as devastating. Our hearts suffer anguish even before the loss occurs because we worry it might happen. For example, I saw a young woman crying in deep distress in a recent dream. Her mother had died instead of being healed. Both mother and daughter were believers in Jesus. Each had accepted him as their Redeemer. In her deep distress, the daughter was crying out, “Why? Why, God, did you let my mother die?”

God replied, “My child, I give each of my children the desire of their heart. Your mother desired to be with me in my heaven.” (Psalm 34:4, NKJV).

The daughter angrily answered, “You did not give me the desire of my heart!”

“Dear child, the desire of your heart was for your mother to be with you instead of me being with you. Your desire was not the same as your mother’s desire. Had your desire been for me to be with you, there would be no anger in your heart or emotional pain. When your heart desires are for me, I can give you your desire.” (Psalm 145:17-20).

Beloved, no one loves us as much as God, our heavenly father, loves us. Therefore, when he is the desire of our heart, he can provide all our wants and needs (Matthew 6:33-34). May your heart overflow with a desire for ABBA Father. Shalom!!
