

A light to my path. Psalm 119:105

To Know Him!

Getting to know someone requires spending time together, talking and doing enjoyable things. Time spent together helps you become friends (Proverbs 18:24, NKJV). Becoming friends first makes you either best friends or a better married couple. However, there is one who becomes your very best friend. His name is Jesus. The Apostle Paul stated that what he learned about Jesus exceeded all the knowledge he possessed. That excellence of knowledge is knowing the power of Jesus' resurrection and the suffering He experienced for our fellowship (Philippians 3:7-10). The power of God to raise Jesus from the dead is in every believer when they accept Jesus as their Savior (Ephesians 1:19-20). That power is the Holy Spirit. Spending time with God — hearing and reading His Word, meditating on it and praying — will bring us the spiritual wisdom to understand the power of God in us, and reveal who Jesus is to us (Ephesians 1:17-22). To know Jesus is to be kind to one another, to look past others' offensive actions, and to forgive them as Jesus forgave us (Ephesians 4:32). Every relationship we have will first falter, then eventually fail without knowing and walking with Jesus. Whether you are married or single, every relationship must have Jesus actively at its center. This means he must be an active part of your decisions, career choices, friendships, children's education, and financial management. Truly, we can do nothing successfully apart from Jesus (John 15:5). To know Jesus is to love him! Shalom!!
