

A light to my path. Psalm 119:105

Grab Hold of Your Restoration!

He staggered out of the bar and found his car. Sitting behind the steering wheel, he thought for the hundredth time, "Am I going to stop?" Another night of turning tricks for men so she could have food for her son nagged at her conscience. The child lived too long with depression and ended it with suicide. He thought injected hormones and a surgical knife would give him the identity he should have had at birth, but it failed. In the deep darkness of his room, he sat in a lingering loneliness because he told his children he would do it tomorrow while he chased his own desires. With the third drink in her hand, she watched couples walking past holding hands, talking, and laughing, wondering if her marriage could change. Satan's tactics steal a person's life (John 10:10). Restoration is never about what we do, for what we have done puts us where we are (Ephesians 2:8-9, NKJV). You look at your past and see it wasted, but God can bring beauty from the ashes (Isaiah 61:3; Joel 2:25). We must grab hold of restoration by believing in Jesus, the Savior of all humanity. Only Jesus can set us free, putting our feet on solid ground, but we must believe he will do it (Galatians 5:1, 16-26; Matthew 8:2-3). God is greater than your failures. Give Jesus a chance to show you the power of his love (Romans 5:8, 38-39). You have nothing to lose and everything to gain (Matthew 16:25). In your darkest valley, a whispered groan for help opens heaven's doors to you. Now is the time to believe Jesus will restore you! Shalom!!
